DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' are notified that claims 80-81 are drawn to "use" claims and they are drawn to non-statutory subject matter and not included in any group.

Applicants' are also notified that claims 4-79 and 85-88 are improper multiple dependent claims.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I claim(s) 1-27 and 29-78 are drawn to compositions.

Group II claim(s) 28, is drawn to polymer.

Group III claim(s) 79 is are drawn to cosmetic process for making up keratin fibers.

Group IV claim(s) 82-88, are drawn to cosmetic assembly.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

As set forth in Rule 13.1 of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), "the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions." Moreover, as stated in Rule 13.2 PCT, Unity of Invention is satisfied "where a group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement of unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art so linked as to form a single general inventive concept." The instant composition Claim 1 does not present a contribution over the prior art. Claim 38 lacks inventive step. Claim 1 is obvious over the combination of PGPUB US 2005/0191258 ('258) and U. S. Patent 7, 378,103 ('103. PGPUB '258 teaches claimed semi crystalline polymers at paragraphs [0066-0131] semi crystalline polymers and patent '103 teaches cosmetic compositions comprising cosmetically acceptable medium (abstract) and teaches at col.9,line 20 through col.10, line 25 and col. various ethylenic block polymers and teaches at col.2, ll 1-3 cosmetic compositions for treating keratin materials and one of ordinary skill in the art would combine the semi crystalline polymers taught by PGPUB and combine with ethylenic block polymers which are taught by patent '103 as film forming. As a result, as currently presented, the instant composition claim does not share a special technical feature with the polymer claim or cosmetic process for making up keratin fibers or cosmetic assembly and, as such, unity between the above Groups I - IV is broken.

Election of species

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species under film-forming ethylenic block polymer.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

3. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Art Unit: 1619

none

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-79 and 82-88.

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species belonging to film-forming polymer do not relate to single general inventive concept under PCT rule 13.1 for the reasons stated above.

5. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species under semi crystalline polymer

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:
none

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-79 and 82-88.

Art Unit: 1619

7. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species belonging to semi crystalline polymer do not relate to single general inventive concept under PCT rule 13.1 for the reasons stated above.

Applicant is cautioned that the election of a particular species wherein the elected specie(s) is/are not adequately disclosed or supported by the accompanying specification, may raise an issue of new matter under the written description requirement of 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Due to complexity of the action, examiner submitted Election Requirement in writing in lieu of calling applicants' attorney.

8. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
